The company's extract or the partnership constitutes an extract from the computerized data pool of the authority which is provided as service to the public according to the information received in the Authority. The information in the extract might be lacking, not precise or updated. The data in the extract should not be relied on since it does not constitute one of the registrations managed by the Authority by law.

For clarifications of the information and reports rendered to the registrar of companies or partnerships as required by law, you should look at the corporate file (www.taagidim.justice.gov.il). It should be emphasized that the information in the file regarding shareholders and directors in the company as well as additional details, is of a declarative manner only and does not constitute replacement of inspecting the shareholders and directors registration managed by the company, which are open to public scrutiny at its registered office.

The registration extract can also include summary of information received from the government authorities such as collection and enforcement authorities, the official and courts systems, rendered as well as service to the public. The information might be partial or not updated and should not be relied upon. One should approach and inspect the information at the certified state authority.
