Criminal Record Extract

The criminal information presented to you is provided to the extent that you are entitled to receive it under the Criminal Register and Rehabilitation of Offenders Law, 5741-1981 (hereinafter: "the Law"), as reported to the Register. The scope of the information varies from one recipient to another in accordance with the Law.

Criminal Record

Clarifications:

a. In an appeal, a retrial or a presidential decision to mitigate a sentence, only the decision given in that proceeding is presented. Details of the previous instances are presented; however, the judgments rendered in them are not.

b. Where a judgment is varied in the course of the revocation or extension of a probation order, the revocation of a community service order, the substitution of a measure imposed on a minor, the trial of a defendant who has become fit to stand trial, or a presidential decision to mitigate a sentence, the judgments given in the previous instances are also presented.

c. In the revocation or extension of a probation order or a community service order, only the offenses dealt with in the revocation proceeding and the penalties imposed in place of probation or community service are presented. Decisions and penalties for offenses not dealt with in the revocation proceeding are presented only under the previous proceeding.
