For your information

1. The information in this extract relates to you and is intended for your use only.
2. Please note that any party entitled by law to receive information from the police records will receive it directly from us and not through you.
3. You are not obliged to present this document, or any part of it, to anyone. Any person who requests this document, or any part of it, as a condition for employment or for any other decision may be in breach of the law and liable to one year of imprisonment, pursuant to section 22 of the Criminal Register and Rehabilitation of Offenders Law, 5741-1981.
4. This extract contains information from the Israel Police records in three areas in respect of which you are entitled to receive information:
   - Criminal record - convictions and other court decisions
   - Police records - cases currently under investigation or pending
   - Police records - closed cases and investigations
5. If no text appears under any of these headings, this means that the police records contain no information about you in that area. No explicit notice to that effect will be given.
   In addition, no note indicating the end of the document will appear.
6. If you have received this page only, this means that you have no police record.
